

GIVING Back

At Motley Rice LLC, it is our underlying mission to advance the greater good – not only for our clients, but for the greater causes affecting society. In and out of the courtroom, we fight for those in need.

With a foundation so deeply rooted in helping others, it is not surprising that the firm has a long history of giving back time and both financial and human resources to our community. Each year, we contribute to local, national and international non-profit organizations that work to strengthen our communities and enhance the quality of life for others.

The firm is also proud to support its attorneys and staff in their personal charitable activities. Several of the firm's professionals serve in leadership positions for national, regional and local charitable organizations, including the Carolina Youth Development Center, Dee Norton Lowcountry Children's Center, Fund for Community Progress, HALOS, International Mesothelioma Program, Magdalene House of Charleston, Peggy Browning Fund, Public Justice and Rosenbaum Family House at West Virginia University Hospitals.
