

Motley Rice is one of the nation's largest plaintiffs' litigation firms. Our mission transcends cases and awards as we fight for big causes and work to advance the greater good, not just for our clients, but for society as a whole. Our attorneys aggressively seek justice and accountability for victims across a broad range of impactful litigation, spanning securities and consumer fraud, occupational disease and toxic tort, medical drugs and devices, environmental damage, antiterrorism, human rights abuses and other case areas. Strengthened by a breadth and depth of knowledge, resources and experience, our attorneys have helped shape some of the most significant settlements and decisions over the past 30 years as we diligently work to protect the rights of consumers, families, investors, businesses and public entities.

Our firm is looking to hire a hungry, creative, disciplined litigator to represent plaintiffs in cases against tech companies that prioritize profits over people.

Applicants for this Associate role must have a Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree from an Accredited School of Law and possess an active license in good standing in the District of Columbia. Candidates should have 2-4 years post-JD legal experience and possess strong legal writing and research skills. Experience with complex litigation matters and/or clerkship experience on a federal district or appellate court is highly preferred.

Some travel will be required as cases are being litigated across the country.

To be considered for this exciting opportunity, please submit a cover letter and resume to staffing@motleyrice.com.
