Meta's responses to the Interrogatories are made to the best of its current knowledge, information, and belief. Meta reserves the right to further supplement or amend any of its responses should future investigation indicate that such supplementation or amendment is necessary.

These spreadsheets also show, for Facebook, the average daily time spent for United States users ages 18-30 with the same age breakdowns.

Meta's response to the Interrogatory and the data provided is subject to the information and qualifications set forth in the April 17, 2025 cover letter associated with that production.
