643	1/31/2022	I can't tell when there's effects on videos.. i just spent at least an hour trying to find how you can see what effect is on what video and everything came up short bc apparently it's not supposed to be like this (thank god bc it's truly so annoying). I'm having the same issue as a lot of ppl where the effects indication has just fallen off of any of my videos. This is brutal for ppl who have body dysmorphia and extremely problematic to not show that they are using a filter. It's also just annoying bc it makes it impossible to find any filter or effect you think is cool based on the videos your watching and often makes the videos confusing bc the creators will be referencing something ppl think you can see. Please help!
