Hi Sandeep! I hear you have questions about CC alignment. I've put time for you and I to talk on Monday, and look forward to learning more.

Hi there! I hope you and your travels are doing well. Unfortunately, I encountered flight cancelations today and need to fly out to MTV tomorrow. I rescheduled our 1:1, and we need to rebook the CC deep dive currently scheduled for Monday morning. My attendance at that CC meeting is important, so I thank you in advance for finding time to keep me included.

Unfortunately, due to travel delays and a rebooking, I will be on a flight at this time and can no longer make the meeting. My attendance is important at this meeting, so please reschedule for a time that I can attend. (I will be in MTV Tues - Thursday, and can make myself available Friday if needed. Thank you for your understanding!

Differently, I'd like to talk with you more in the future about re-imagining a policy system that introduces low-inference policy options instead of our current complicated policies. Would like to introduce something to allow the backend to pull together different logic sentences that more acutely assess risk while also greatly improving moderate ease and accuracy. This is something @Mattia Ferrari have been discuss quite a bit, and invite you to innovate with us on it.

Hi -- thank you for the comment on the other thread. Is Alex aware of the tradeoff this product is making for safety to youth? Historically he has been a strong advocate for prioritizing minor safety. I am very concerned that, with this product and with TikTok Now, that the business is very suddenly detaching from a strong commitment to minor safety. It is very surprising and something that will weaken us from an external trust perspective AND will diminish our ability to keep teens safe. These choices are the dividing line between places like Meta with (earned) terrible reputations and ByteDance....

Hi all. Appreciate all the rigor on this project. I met with @Gill Tan yesterday to understand the urgency of this project. Per her, she has been asked to pause all her existing projects and move resources into this project and this project is overseen by Alex Zhu and Yiming himself and they want to launch by end of the month. This definitely puts pressure on us to move fast along with all the other teams. Of course we should not tradeoff our quality of decision but let's find the right balance. I will be heavily involved on this project as well .

Tracy Elizabeth 2022-08-10 17:43:11

TT has had a great reputation so far in the Minor Safety space. I've always been able to standby the product in the face of scholars and child advocates. We are walking away from that luxury.

Sandeep Grover 2022-08-10 17:44:13

we should decide as a team on our recommendation and we should push the product teams on what we want . btw I am aligned that 13+ is high risk. so I will start socializing this right away even while we get our formal recommendation out. we will make everyone aware of our recommendation .. and that could lead to few outcomes still. ppl may override T&S, ppl may slow down or they take our recommendation.
