2021 CyberTipline Reports by Electronic Service Providers (ESP)

NCMEC's CyberTipline is the nation's centralized reporting system for the online exploitation of children, including child sexual abuse material, child sex trafficking and online enticement. In 2021, the CyberTipline received more than 29.3 million reports. 29.1 million of these reports were from Electronic Service Providers that report instances of apparent child sexual abuse material that they become aware of on their systems.

Higher numbers of reports can be indicative of a variety of things including larger numbers of users on a platform or how robust an ESP's efforts are to identify and remove abusive content. NCMEC applauds ESPs that make identifying and reporting this content a priority and encourages all companies to increase their reporting to NCMEC. These reports are critical to helping remove children from harmful situations and to stopping further victimization.

2022 CyberTipline Reports by Electronic Service Providers (ESP)

NCMEC's CyberTipline is the nation's centralized reporting system for the online exploitation of children, including child sexual abuse material, child sex trafficking and online enticement. In 2022, the CyberTipline received more than 32 million reports. More than 31.8 million of these reports were from Electronic Service Providers that report instances of apparent child sexual abuse material that they become aware of on their systems.

U.S. based ESPs are legally required to report instances of "apparent child pornography" to the CyberTipline when they become aware of them, but there are no legal requirements for proactive efforts to detect this content or what information an ESP must include in a CyberTipline report. As a result, both the volume and content of reports can vary greatly. Higher numbers may indicate robust efforts to identify and remove abusive content. NCMEC encourages all companies to make identifying and reporting this content a priority. For more information about reports made in 2022, visit MissingKids.org/CyberTiplineData.

2023 CyberTipline Reports by Electronic Service Providers (ESP)

NCMEC's CyberTipline is a designated reporting mechanism for the public and electronic service providers (ESPs) to report instances of suspected child sexual exploitation. In 2023, the CyberTipline received more than 36.2 million reports, with the vast majority referring to incidents of suspected child sexual abuse material (CSAM). More than 35.9 million of the reports were from ESPs that reported instances of apparent child sexual abuse material they became aware of on their systems.

U.S. based ESPs are legally required to report instances of "apparent child pornography" to the CyberTipline when they become aware of them, but there are no legal requirements for proactive efforts to detect this content or what information an ESP must include in a CyberTipline report. As a result, both the volume and content of reports can vary greatly. For more information about reports made in 2023, visit NCMEC.org/CyberTiplineData.
