

FILED UNDER SEAL

EXHIBIT 18

Child Safety Risks in Rooms & RTC 101

5/28/20

Owners:
[REDACTED], Ravi Sinha
Safety Policy*

*Please note that [REDACTED] & Ravi Sinha are former federal prosecutors who specialized in child exploitation, trafficking, and cybercrimes and present this deck as a general guide and educational resource, not as official Policy organization recommendations

User Reporting is important but it's not enough

The Washington Post
Democracy Dies in Darkness

PostEverything

I watch child pornography to prosecute sex crimes. The kids' silence is deafening.

If they're not crying, we assume they must not be hurting.

(Gerald Dubois for The Washington Post)

By Sarah Chang
Sarah Chang is a federal prosecutor who specializes in child exploitation crimes.

Ad closed by creeo...

Report this ad

Ad choices

- Minors rarely report their own abuse.
- Tech savvy offenders engage in extensive vetting of one another when sharing CSAM or exchanging tips.
- Bystanders will have limited access or visibility into what's really happening.
- For more insight, read Sarah Chang's op-ed.