Case Number:
D-101-CV-2023-02838

The New Mexico Department of Justice is investigating social media platforms, such as Facebook and Instagram, for harming children and misleading the public about the safety of these platforms. The NMDOJ wants to learn more from New Mexicans who have experienced the harmful effects of social media. This may include bullying, harassment, and exposure to inappropriate content or accounts.

While the NMDOJ continues its investigation, individuals who believe they are victims of a crime should contact their local police department.

Have you ever reported any content or accounts on a social media app? If so, on which apps (Snapchat, Instagram, WhatsApp, TikTok, etc.)? What did you report and what did the social media app tell you about your report?

Have you ever been contacted on social media by an adult you did not know or who made you uncomfortable? If so, on which apps (Snapchat, Instagram, WhatsApp, TikTok, etc.)?

What would you like to change about social media? Why do you want to make these changes?

By choosing 'Accept' below, I acknowledge and/or consent to the following terms. The information I am providing will be used by the New Mexico Department of Justice to: (a) assist in the NMDOJ's enforcement of consumer-protection laws; (b) attempt to resolve the issue about which I am contacting the Office; (c) communicate with me; and (d) and otherwise assist in enforcing the law. I understand that the information I provide will be accessible to NMDOJ staff and agents whose work assignments reasonably require access, to the state or legislative auditors, to other entities authorized by state or federal law, to persons authorized pursuant to a court order, and to others subject to my informed consent. For the purposes described herein, I consent to the NMDOJ disseminating information I provide to other law enforcement agencies or other consumer-assistance agencies. I understand that I am not legally required to provide the information I have submitted or to consent to its release, but my failure to do so may make it more difficult to resolve my concerns. I understand that the NMDOJ does not control the use or dissemination of information provided to third parties pursuant to my consent.
