Populations are most at risk for developing mental health challenges when they are also more likely to experience negative social comparison and bullying on social media. These can develop into a feedback loop.

Adapted from Narrative Summary: Digital Technology & Youth Social/Emotional Health (CP WB)