Hi Lotte, definitely noted in terms of your primary expertise! I know you have worked on eating disorders in the past though, so if you'd like to participate and think it would have value, we'd love to have you! And if not, we have other round tables such as these on different topics, and will have an suicide and self-injury focused meeting in February as well.

And yes, regarding the NDA, not to worry; it turns out we need to standardize across all SSI experts we work with so might be a bit delayed. It won't preclude your participating in conversations with us.

Stay tuned and thank you!

Liz

Hi Liz,

Thank you for your email and the invitation to this meeting.

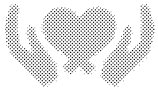

I would very much like to participate, and although my area of expertise is primarily non-suicidal self-injury (NSSI), it would be a pleasure to participate and contribute with my clinical experience with eating disordered adolescents and my general knowledge of "problem behaviors" on social media.

By the way, your colleague, Sebastian, has not yet sent me the link to sign the NDA-form.

Best,

Lotte

Emne: Invitation to share feedback on our policies around eating disorders

Hi Lotte,

I hope you are well!

I would like to invite you to a closed-door feedback session on our policies around eating disorders on Feb 3, 8 - 9.30am Pacific Standard Time (GMT - 8). We are constantly working to improve and iterate on our policy lines around different topics, and your perspective would be very valuable. We will have members of our content policy teams joining the meeting to share what our current policy lines are around eating disorders, how we enforce these policies, and some of the issues we are thinking through as we continue to evolve.

We would then love to hear from you and other experts in the room about what you are seeing in your line of work, any potential trends or behaviors we should be aware of, and your thoughts on our current policy lines. These conversations will be confidential to ensure that we can all share as much as possible.

Please let me know if you can make the session by replying directly to this email. We will send you a calendar invitation for the video conference and more details ahead of the session as the date draws near.

I hope you can make it and look forward to hearing from you soon!

Best,

Liz
