Message

From: Guy Rosen [notification+kjdk_h_d3iwm@fbworkmail.com]
Sent: 7/26/2019 1:00:03 PM
To: Community Success Stories – Enforcements and Safeguarding [post+172537159460861@mail.workplace.com]
BCC: Alex Schultz [aschultz@fb.mail.onmicrosoft.com]
Subject: [Community Success Stories – Enforcements and Safeguarding] Last month, Antigone and myself had the...

Reply by email to comment on Guy's post in the Community Success Stories – Enforcements and Safeguarding group. All 1,965 group members will be able to see your reply on Workplace. Group members with email notifications turned on will also receive it by email.

Guy Rosen posted in Community Success Stories – Enforcements and Safeguarding
July 26 at 6:00 AM

Last month, Antigone and myself had the opportunity to participate in a meeting between NCMEC leadership and Mark. We talked about the company's privacy-focused vision (which they understand), the work streams we're spinning up (which they want to contribute to however they can) and also about how the industry should come together on these challenges (which they want to help with). We expressed our commitment to do everything we can to build the safest encrypted messaging service out there.

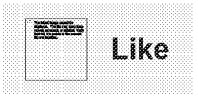

At the start of the meeting, the NCMEC CEO told us that Facebook has done more for child safety than any other tech company. And the reason they know we're committed to keeping kids safe is because of the work we've done over the years (and particularly he called out the progress on grooming in the past two years). He then pulled out a 200-page printed book, a compilation that enumerates, page by page, real success stories – children saved and abusers put away – thanks to our work.

Here is the book:
https://www.dropbox.com/s/w7uyrq3tv1hv280/NCMEC%20Facebook%20Success%20Book.PDF?dl=0

I always get goosebumps thinking about this work, but hearing and seeing this was one of the most meaningful moments in my work on integrity. This is real impact. I know we have challenges ahead, but I wanted to share this with you all and express a massive THANK YOU to everyone on this amazing cross-functional team for what you do to keep children safe. There's no other team I'd want to be working with to navigate these new, uncharted waters. Thank you ❤

Unsubscribe from Guy's post or Community Success Stories – Enforcements and Safeguarding · Change email settings

You're seeing this because you're a member of Community Success Stories – Enforcements and Safeguarding group on Workplace

Learn more about Workplace · Facebook, Inc., Attention: Community Support, 1 Facebook Way, Menlo Park, CA 94025

